American Riviera Bank Corporate Headquarters Santa Barbara, California

Jensen Audio Visual was there in the beginning when American Riviera Bank opened its corporate headquarters in Santa Barbara. We were chosen to provide the audiovisual design services for the front lobby and executive conference room. The audiovisual system in the lobby includes a 61" recessed plasma screen with hidden controls for PC, video and cable television inputs.

The executive conference room includes such features as video projection, recessed electric screen, teleconferencing and integrated audio. All controls for operation of the equipment can be done at a centrally located wall mounted touch pad.

"Jensen Audio Visual walked us through all of our AV needs, from the rough construction stage to helping us operate the system during our first presentation. They were exceptionally responsive and adaptive. Best of all, Jensen was both on time and on budget!"
