

installation

University of California
Material Research Labs
Santa Barbara, California

UCSB Material Research Labs boasts beautiful views of the ocean and beach from most of their conference rooms in their new building. Unfortunately, all that sunshine is a hindrance to their audiovisual presentations. Jensen Audio Visual incorporated electric window shades into their new conference rooms allowing for their presentations to be bright and clear. The system also included recessed electric screens, ceiling mounted projectors and floor boxes with computer/video inputs.

